

One-stop shop / end-to-end solutions provider

Being an international multi-language vendor, we offer top-quality services on-level with the world's highest standards

In house, experienced and professional staff
Cutting edge computer aided translation tools

Vertical specialization

WSL localization improves your ROI and reduces the overall cost and time of globalization

If you plan on selling your product in the global market, it is best that you consider the possible internationalization issues during early stages of the design process.

WSL has the know-how and the experience for better understanding and resolving the issues and requirements of product internationalization. Our experts understand the requirements posed by foreign markets, and can make the process of internationalizing your product as smooth and trouble-free as possible.

Local expertise, global delivery model

Prepare your software for smooth localization into target languages

Internationalization can be performed on existing products as well. Let us review your product's architecture and organize it according to locale dependencies. This will make it easier to access, manipulate, and test the localizable content.

For Israeli companies: A single vendor, for all localization and translation needs – significant cost/time saving.

For international companies: Besides being a proven localization and translation vendor, WSL offers unique expertise in bi-directional languages – Arabic and Hebrew.

Focus on innovation and value-added services

WSL converts your brand and its value to other languages

Localizes your product (be it software, documentation, online help, multimedia material, etc.) to every language. Guarantees an efficient provision of accurately translated content, creates high quality, single-sourced documentation, ready for localization, creates and localizes e-Learning tools, prepares your software code for smooth conversion into target languages.

WSL translates your product using the latest computer-assisted translation tools. Helps you achieve concurrent releases of your product in the source language and the localized versions, improves your ROI and reduce the overall cost and time required for globalization by implementing an end-to-end solution. Save up to 40% of your QA costs using Content Management in the localization process.

High client retention rate and revenue visibility

Weizman Group Services

The Weizman Group provides content development and localization services, required for the successful deployment of high-tech products in international markets. Weizman Group services include technical writing, technical translations, software internationalization and localization, development and translation of e-Learning projects, and more. We currently provide services to a broad range of local and international hi-tech companies, who benefit from the synergetic effects of our cross-service, end-to-end solutions.

Track record of growth with partners

Our customers

Our customers appreciate that professional translation and technical writing are essential components of any product. As an international localization vendor, we are experienced in working for customers all over the world, and we have the flexibility to meet any customer requirements.

WSL provides efficient and cost-effective management for all types of assignments, large and small. WSL is able to identify the most appropriate localization solution for each customer, in order to satisfy his demand for both quality and cost-effectiveness.

Experienced management team

Making your choice

At WSL, clients work with an experienced project manager who is responsible for all issues that are critical in producing accurate, timely, and first-rate documents. The client receives multiple layers of quality control and consistency between documents translated into the chosen languages. WSL can be powerful partners in conveying your organization's message accurately to your target population.

Save up to 40% of QA costs thanks to our unique content management methodologies

A dedicated content manager, who oversees all content aspects of the project, creates the conditions necessary to assure the correct translations in all languages, as well as cross language consistency.

<http://www.wsl.co.il/>